Cell and the AICTE in New Delhi. Dr. S. Sundararajan convened the meeting, which was organised by Dr. S. Jainab Zareena. Between 10 a.m. and 12 p.m., Mr. Daniel Prabhakaran, Chief Executive Officer, Annamalai Innovation & Incubation Research Foundation, Annamalai University, convened a forenoon session titled "Role of Incubation Centres in Engineering Institutions for Entrepreneurship Development". The sole purpose of Incubation centres in Engineering Institutions is to provide resources and services to student innovators including working space and offices, technical expertise, mentoring, assistance in compiling an effective business plan, shared administrative services, technical support, and business networking. The role of incubators in supporting entrepreneurs was discussed in detail. The webinar titled "Design Thinking for Innovation" was presided by Er. Rahul, Founder of ATESH labs, Silverink Foundation, and Startup Grind, Kanyakumari in the afternoon session between 2 pm and 4 pm. This session highlighted the fact that the methods we used previously to solve many of the problems are no longer effective. The need to develop new ways of thinking in order to design better solutions was explored. Participants were young vibrant student innovators. The entire session was interactive and beneficial to the aspiring entrepreneurs.
